② Increased direct representation of Princely States (without election) in central legislature so as to reduce the growing influence of Congress

③ The GoI Act conceded to most of Jinnah's 14 points, further institutionalizing separate electorates.

④ Appeal to Moderates - as the GoI Act 1935 was showed as a move towards giving dominion status to India, it appealed to moderates as a satisfactory achievement.

With Gandhi's resignation from Congress & withdrawal of CDM in 1934 the Britain Parliament found the conditions ripe to slow down India's quest for swaraj by giving limited voter enfranchisement & slow constitutional reforms to ensure imperial authority.

Effective conclusion connecting Act to broader imperial strategy.
